Good Day:

My name is Oleg B. Karimov, a businessman from the Russian Federation. I am a close ally of the government. Due to the sanctions imposed on the Russian economy and Russians by the US and other Western governments over the standoff with Ukraine.

It's very clear that the invasion of Ukraine by the Russian military is not what was sold to the people. And the sanctions that have following such provocation has been so severe, hence I and my partners here in Russia want to move some of our assets abroad for fear of being cut off.

We have concluded an arrangement with our contact within one of Russian leading commercial banks to package the sum of US$55 million to be moved through the diplomatic system. This diplomatic payment system is exclusively reserved to top governmental person(s) and big business people who are otherwise innocent.

If you are willing to consider this offer, a substantial amount shall be set aside for your compensation. And an offer of investment cooperation shall be extended with regard to investment opportunities available in your country.

Finally, further detail regarding the modus- operandi shall be communicated to you upon receipt of your favorable response. Rest assured that this is risk-free for both parties.

Get back to me by email ASAP.

Best regards
Oleg Karimov
